Call For Proposals 2019-2020 – BC Capacity Initiative

October 2018

This is a call for applications from First Nations organizations interested in running capacity development projects in the 2019-2020 fiscal year.

The BC Capacity Initiative (BCCI) prepares First Nations groups to engage in reconciliation discussions by funding projects that enhance community capacities. The expected result for capacity development is that First Nations advance their readiness to participate in reconciliation discussions.

Please pay careful attention to the revised Application Guidelines (available only on the BCCI website, www.bccapacity.org).

The guidelines detail changes to the eligibility and evaluation criteria used to determine which applications are funded. These new additions are intended to help communities develop strong applications through a more transparent process. Please contact the program coordinator at (604) 396-6420 or aadnc.BCCDCapacity.aandc@canada.ca if you have any questions about these changes.

The BCCI Application form, PAW 5702745, can be downloaded from <http://www.aadnc-aandc.gc.ca/eng/1386610826543/1386610899912>, under the 2019-2020, “Acts, Agreements, and Treaties” section. The complete call package is available at the BCCI website: the 2019-2020 Application Form, Guidelines and Work Plan.

Proposals will be accepted until end of day Monday, November 19, 2018.
Email your completed proposal and all required support documents to aadnc.BCMail.aandc@aadnc.gc.ca.

If you do not receive an immediate automated email confirmation after submitting your proposal, or need further assistance or information, please contact the BCCI Coordinator Alice Wong by email at aadnc.BCCDCapacity.aandc@canada.ca or phone (604) 396-6420.

Sincerely,

BC Capacity Initiative
